

THE MOUNTAIN ADVOCATE.

Entered as Second-Class Matter Friday, February 19th, 1904 at the Postoffice at Barbourville, Knox County, Ky., under Act of Congress of March 3rd, 1879.
MOTTO—LIVE FOR OUR FRIENDS—DO THE GREATEST AMOUNT OF GOOD WE CAN TO THE LARGEST NUMBER OF PEOPLE.

Terms: $1. Per Year in Advance.

BARBOURVILLE, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1906.

Second Year. Vol. 2. No. 51.

OUR GRADED SCHOOL

Should Receive Attention From Every One and All Work Together to Secure It.

Since our last article appeared touching upon the question of a public graded school for our town, we have talked with Supt. Parker and he assures us that he will give his hearty support to such a movement.

Union College will also work in unison, and already that institution has arranged to strike out (after this year) all the lower branches and teach only the Normal, Academic and Collegiate branches, which will be giving a clear field to a graded school, and we have suggested before the plan proposed will make it cheaper to the parents than the course now adopted.

The people of this community want to give their children the advantage of a good education, and we know of no better way and no way that would reduce the expense so much as to establish a free graded school and have it continue for nine months each year, have a four year course of high school studies taught, and when the pupils have graduated from the graded school they are then properly fitted to enter college, business, or to take up professional work.

We cannot understand why this has been overlooked so long, but we believe that Superintendent Parker means to take the matter up, and with the assistance of our Board of School Trustees, together with the citizens of our town, it will not be a hard matter to have one of the best schools to be found anywhere, in full operation in Barbourville.

We want to state here that we are ready at any time to render whatever assistance we can to the cause and feel confident that if every one who feels themselves interested would only say a word favorable to the movement and discuss with the school board the idea of having a graded school, it would be but a short time until we would realize just what we all recognize would be a grand step forward in educational advancement.

Let's not allow this matter to drag along and nobody do anything, but let's awaken and take steps to secure a graded school system, and we would never want to return to the present system again.

AN EDITOR'S APPEAL

To Brother Publishers in Behalf Of The Lost Child of Dr. Byers of Seelyville, Ind.

If the editor of every paper in the central west will remembrance these lines there is no question but what Dr. S. L. Byers, of Seelyville, Ind., will recover his little son who was stolen from his home one year ago last May. Dr. Byers has spent his entire resources in search of his child, and unless the big-hearted members of the press come to his assistance his son will grow up an outlaw and an outcast among the lowest people of the earth. It is a cause that should appeal to everyone, and no father reading these lines can do so without a quickening of the heart and a sympathetic throb. It is believed that if this article is reprinted in the newspapers it will form an endless chain that will uncover the lost boy's concealment and return him to his distracted parents. In doing this the press of journalism will be fulfilling one of its highest duties.

eat destinies. Publishers whose circulations touch the Wabash, Ohio and Mississippi valleys are especially requested to reproduce this story of the lost child as Dr. Byers believes his boy is now on some houseboat waiting to take the road in the Spring. There is a reward of $500, awaiting any information that will lead to the boy's recovery. No questions will be asked and if the abductor himself would deliver the boy to his parents he would not be molested. The bereaved parents are heartbroken with grief and want only their child. If each journal well reprint these lines, they will travel to every exchange table in the United States and bring back to a wretched home a child who is now no doubt suffering with cold, unfed and wretched to a degree. Think of what your own feelings would be under similar circumstances! This appeal is indited originally by a publisher who saw Dr. Byers only once, has no personal interest in his request other than the bond of sympathy that makes the world akin, and is inspired from the belief that the lost boy can only be found through the united effort of the country press of which he is proud to be a member. His recovery will be a triumph in advertising and no editor whose heart is placed right will refuse this appeal. Remember, it may be your child next!

The following is a description of the lost boy:

DESCRIPTION.

Richmond Byers, five, is of light complexion, has gray eyes, left eye noticeably crossed, has a small V shaped nick in the edge of the left ear, has a sharp chin and a narrow projecting forehead. He is rather small for his age and is unusually bright and intelligent, taking after the manner of a boy much older.

Dr. Byers has searched among the roving bands that frequent the United States and believes that his son can be found among traveling junk dealers, so called horse traders or movers. He does not think the boy was stolen by genuine gypsies. He thinks he was taken by a wandering band that used him for the purpose of begging in towns along the route. (Exchanges please copy.)

Kentuckians to Honor Foster's Memory.

The second day of "Home Coming Week of Kentuckians" Louisville, June 13 to 17, will be known as Foster Day, when a statue of the author of "My Old Kentucky Home" will be unveiled. The money to pay for this statue is being contributed by the school children of Kentucky. The children of the Louisville public schools have already contributed several hundred dollars. Prof. Jas. H. Pagan, Sr., State Superintendent of Public Instruction, has issued a letter to all city and county superintendents urging them to urge the teachers in their jurisdictions to explain the plan to their pupils and take up collections. If every school in the state will raise only a few dollars there will be enough money on hand to pay for the statue, which will cost about $6,000.

Stay Of Execution.

The Supreme Court Monday granted a motion of attorneys for James B. Howard for a stay of execution for thirty days and Howard will not go to the penitentiary to-day under the order granted when the case was decided against him. The stay admits of time to prepare a petition for rehearing.

CAMPBELL

Offered Bookwalter $25,000 to Permit Him to Have Taylor Kidnaped from Indiana.

(By Louis Ludlow.)

Representative Fred Landis, of Indiana, has in his desk at the Capitol a lengthy signed statement by Mayor Charles A. Bookwalter, of Indianapolis, in which Mayor Bookwalter gave graphic details of an effort which he said was made by Tom Campbell, attorney for the Goebels, to permit him to permit former Gov. W. S. Taylor, of Kentucky, to be kidnaped from Indianapolis. According to Bookwalter's formal charge, during his first term as Mayor he was invited by a man whom he supposed to be his friend to come to Cincinnati. When he got there he was introduced to Tom Campbell. Subsequently he was invited to dine at his friend's house, and Campbell, without Bookwalter's knowledge, was invited also.

After dinner, the statement continues, the host left Campbell and Bookwalter together, and Campbell then offered Bookwalter $25,000 if he would allow Goebel sleuths to come to Indianapolis and take Taylor away. Bookwalter immediately repudiated the offer, and when he returned home he ordered a strong police guard placed about Taylor's house, and warned Taylor to keep indoors. By request of Mr. Landis, Mayor Bookwalter has furnished him a detailed statement of the occurrence.

Mr. Landis is a warm friend of Caleb Powers and has taken a part in raising money in Indiana to help defray the cost of Powers' trial. He proposes to make a speech on the Kentucky situation and to read Bookwalter's statement to the House. "I am sure," he said, "that will do much to fix national attention on Democratic methods in Kentucky and to show to the world what kind of men are after Powers."—Louisville Post.

Cross-the Freight Rates.

The Kentucky Railroad Commission has fixed the freight rate on crosses at the same figure which the railroads now charge for shipping lumber. Heretofore the freight rate was so high on crosses that the producers could not pay it, and was thereby compelled to sell his ties to a local railroad. Under the rate as fixed by the Commission, those who make crosses and those who ship them, will get a very much better price than they could originally have gotten on account of this reduction in the freight rate.

Large Oil Well.

Yamacrawe Ky., Jan. 26, 1906.

Editor Advocate,

DEAR SIR—You may insert these few lines in your paper if you wish. On the night of January 26th, at 11 o'clock, while drilling for oil on Wolf creek, in the edge of Wayne county, near Whitley, I struck a flow of gas that blew the tools out of the hole and we cannot do anything with it at all. I practical oil men say it is the largest gas well in Kentucky. It will make ten million feet per feet.

THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

That is not home, where day by day I wear the busy hours away; That is not home, where lonely night Prepares me for the toils of light; 'Tis hope, and joy, and memory, give A home in which the heart can live. It is a presence undefined. O'ershadowing the conscious mind: Where love and duty sweetly blend To consecrate the name of friend: Where're thou art, is home to me, A home without thee cannot be.

THE world need never shed a tear for its sinned dead: They are safe as the harvest is when the farmer has hoisted it into sheaves and stored it away, or as the roses are when the gardener has wrapped their roots in straw and housed them from the storm. They are as safe as the larks that fly singing from the green earth out of the reach of the huntsman's snare and the aim of the cruel sportsman. They are as safe as warriors who march beneath worn battle-flags no more, but sit down with conquerors to festivals of song and wine. They are safe as young lambs are when shepherds fold them from the blast and carry them over rough places in tender arms. Weep for the living all you choose; let your tears be unstayed above the dying bed where your darlings lie like wreaths of fading snow beneath the glance of death; but if you believe in God and hold any faith in heaven, shed not your tears for the blessed and happy dead. Christianity gives the lie to its belief when it garbs itself in and mourns without comfort for those who have exchanged the inn for palace, the wilderness for the land of peace and plenty.

EXAMPLE FOR YOUNG MEN.

1905 has now passed into history. No year in history of the world has left to our young men brighter examples in the old maxim that "Honesty is the best policy." No other year has seen the downfall of so many men holding high position in society, in financial circles and even in church. Men who lived in palaces and were next to worshiped by their fellow men at the dawn of 1905, were behind prison bars when the old year bid us farewell. The heads of many of our great insurance companies and banking houses, have in their desire to "get rich quick" stepped aside from the path of honesty, with the result that never fails to follow such a course, and the new year finds them disgraced and dishonest. Among the most striking examples in this class is that of Prof. N. C. Dougherty, superintendent of schools in the beautiful city of Peoria, Illinois, a position he held for 27 years. Not only in the schools to which he was attached were his services an education in demand, but high schools, Y. M. C. A., conventions, college and teachers' associations felt extremely honored when they could induce Prof. Dougherty to speak before them upon educational matters, and one of his strange points was in trying to impress upon the minds of young men the necessity of honesty and uprightness.

But that is all ended now, Prof. Dougherty's days as an educator, in what we may call a positive manner, are ended, his silvery voice will no longer urge young men and women to live up to the highest ideals of right and duty. But Dougherty's career as an educator is not yet over though his teachings now will be rather negative than positive, by example than precept; the lesson he is now giving should sink deep into the hearts and memories of all young men, as it is of tremendous significance to all, for it demonstrates the terrible effects of disobeying the mandates of honesty and straying from the paths of uprightness.

The spectacle is a sad one to be snatched in a moment, as it were, from the high places he held in the confidence and esteem of his fellow men, honored by positions that gave him place among the highest and best, a palatial home with every comfort, a loving family circle where all was love and happiness, a host of admiring friends, respected and loved by everybody, the idol of hundreds of teachers and thousands of pupils, all are gone, he has exchanged them for the four walls of a prison cell and in a little while he will lose even his name and will be known simply by number. Even the dollars for which he sacrificed so much, they too are gone, everything is swept clean and the wife of his bosom will have to leave her comfortable home and go into the world worse than a widow, to all intents and purposes a pauper; and the friends who have loved him and upheld him must all suffer, not from anything criminal they have done, but from the confidence and friendly feeling they have for him, and several of those who were his closest friends may be stripped of reputation and fortune simply because they were too confident of his integrity.

Young men, the career of Prof. Dougherty furnishes a frightful example of the necessity of keeping in the narrow path of honesty. It is dangerous to turn to the right or left; beware of the first step outside, it is the crucial test; without taking the first step are safe, but when you once leave the right path you never know where your wanderings may lead you to.

Another lesson taught by Prof. Dougherty's fall, and we wish to emphasize it, is that you do not go down alone, all those who love and trust you will be more or less affected by your downfall and they that you love and that love you must suffer the most. The memory of the loved ones ought to stay your hand when you are tempted to go wrong. We doubt if Prof. Dougherty, in his long and successful career as an educator, has ever before taught so valuable a lesson as the one to be drawn from the disclosures and proceedings which have ended that career and placed him behind the prison bars, bereft of home, fortune and friends, a parish in society.

Prof. Dougherty furnishes but one of many examples we would like to place before our young men, some of them, we regret to say, could be found much nearer home.

NOTICE.

To Whom it May Concern:

In going over the Librarian's record of the Teachers' Library of Knox county, we find a large number of books that are in the hands of teachers and others. These should be returned to the library at once. They have been charged to the teachers who have them in custody, and the price of same will be deducted from their February payment unless they are returned on or by that time.

Respectfully,

SUPERINTENDENT.

Farmers' Club.

There will be a special meeting of the Knox County Farmers' Club at the Court-house in Barbourville, Saturday, February 10, at 10 o'clock p. m. to select delegates to attend the State meeting which is to be held later in the month at Frankfort.

It is urged that a full attendance of the members be present at this meeting.

Dan Murphy and Miss Maggie Hubbard will be united in the holy bonds of wedlock next Thursday.

The roads on Stinking creek are just about gone. We don't think they will last until Sunday.

Thomas Hubbard and wife were guests of T. G. Hammons and wife last Sunday.

Lark Hubbard has been trading some here of late. Day's Outlook.

Hopper.

F. F. Rowland is building a new barn which greatly adds beauty to his farm. Mr. Rowland is a progressive man, and it would be well for others in our vicinity to follow suit.

Mr. Felix Matthews seems to be a welcome visitor at Mr. John Garrison's. Would it not be so with you?

Miss Elizabeth Matthews spent a couple of days last week visiting friends in Barbourville. J. W. M.

Cannon.

Last Sunday marked the closing of a revival meeting at this place, which has been in progress two weeks. Much good was done and the people seem to be benefited. The meeting had hardly closed when Mr. Burnett started a singing school. We never know when to quit a good thing.

Mrs. Laura Marcell and Miss Lucy Smith made a flying trip to London last week.

Mrs. Mary Gibson has been very ill for the past week, but she is now improving.

Hello! brother correspondents, where have all gone? Wake up and let us hear from you. Don't let the correspondence of our valuable paper go to the bad. Pardon my respective towns, be they ever so small, and let the reading public hear from them.

Cannon is booming with loaders now, but we hope to make good farm hands out of them a little later in the season.

The social element of our little town is in a critical condition just now. We don't know just what to prescribe on the whole, but the boys would do well to take a good dose of waking-up-powders.
